RIFLESSI DI LEGNO

Woodn't it be nice . . . to have the traditional warmth of wood planking without the intensive installation process and maintenance headaches? RIFLESSI DI LEGNO repurposes conventional wood graining into the economical, easily maintained medium of color body porcelain tile. Boldly rustic, boldly sized, boldly colored, it's poised to dramatically influence any environment.

Distinctive graining in five authentic hardwood colors fits right into commercial or residential areas where ADA-compliant slip-resistance is important. The series is chameleon-like in that it is equally at ease in the casual, relaxed settings of a weekend retreat, as the sophisticated backdrop for a retail or hospitality venue, in trendy lofts with an urban chic bent.

Rectified sides permit precise alignment with small grout joints, making it a viable option for walls as well as floors, indoors and out.
